THE monument being erected over the grave of James G. Blaine by his wife will simply bear the name, date and place of birth and date and place of death. The stone is eight feet high.

CANADIAN papers state that the Behring sea pelagic sealing question has been settled by the arbitration commission. Uncle Sam will purchase the ships and equipments of the Canadian seal fishers on condition that all British rights to Behring sea be surrendered. Appraisers from both nations have been named to fix the price upon the property owned by the Canadians. James G. Blaine's stand against Lord Salisbury while the former was secretary of state is now admitted by the Canucks to have been well taken.

OLD campaigners say they never saw a larger crowd in Arizona than assembled Saturday night to see and hear Col. Brodie, says the Phoenix Republican. If that crowd is to be taken as a criterion of Brodie's strength in the territory, Wilson won't have enough votes to give him a standing in the political almanacs.

A SPECIAL dispatch from Washington to the Arizona Republican states that P. J. Aguirre has been appointed assayer at the custom house at Nogales, Ariz. Miss Alma R. Morrill of Ohio was appointed kindergarten teacher at the San Carlos school. Dr. A. Walls was appointed examining surgeon at Prescott.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY, while speaking at the Omaha exposition, uttered the following patriotic and humanitarian sentiments which are characteristics of the man who is uppermost in the thoughts of the people of this great nation: "We have, too, a national conscience, and we have the courage of destiny. We want no differences abroad; when that is done we can have our little differences among ourselves. This war that has so speedily closed through the valor and intrepidity of our soldiers will bring to us, I trust, blessings that are now beyond calculation. It will bring also burdens, but the Americans never shirk responsibility."
